Description
Hello,
i just upgraded my Google Pixel 2 XL to the latest Android 11 beta and noticed that my VPNs are not accessible anymore. The connection to the site is established as usual, it looks like there is no traffic passing through the tunnel. Maybe it's worth to take a look before the release of Android 11.
I tried:
<ul style="list-style-type: none">- reinstalling Strongswan- wiping data/cache- new configuration of the connections
I attached the log of the Strongswan-App, and some basic network information about the routes / interfaces on the android device with an established connection. My second android device (with Android 10) works just fine, so i
